HOTELS AND COTTAGES
BURN AT WATCH HILL

Gale Spreads Flames and Nearly Towns Have to Send Help.

WATCH HILL, R. I., Oct. 20.—Three summer hotels and two cottages were destroyed last night by a fire which caused a loss estimated in excess of $200,000. The hotels were the New Watch Hill House, Colonial Hotel and the Columbia House. The cottages were owned by William C. Hastings of Yonkers and Miss Julia Rush of Troy. All the hotels had been closed for the season. The fire started in a manner not yet determined in the east wing of the New Watch Hill House, a four-story wooden structure containing 150 rooms. Helped by a fifty-mile wind, the flames spread to the Hastings cottage. Mrs. Hastings, who was ill in bed, was removed to a building outside the path of the fire. The firemen, realizing the gale was carrying the fire beyond control, summoned help from nearby towns.

$25,000 TO GERMAN POOR.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—To the poor of Brockenhelm, Germany, his birthplace, $25,000 is left by the will made public here to-day of Henry Miller, who became known in the West as the "Cattle King," and who was the largest individual owner of land on the Pacific Coast. Miller died last Saturday. It is estimated he was worth $20,000,000. The will also provides $15,000 for the poor of Gilroy, Cal., where Miller spent much of his early life, to be distributed at Christmas.

PARALYSIS VICTIM
IN HARVARD'S SQUAD

Mild Case, Say the Doctors, and Football Team Will Play on Saturday.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 20.—Edwin Ginn, who has been playing football with the Harvard scrub team all fall, is at the Stillman Infirmary with what the physicians believe is a mild case of infantile paralysis. He was taken ill Tuesday.

Ginn, who comes from Winchester, Mass., is a member of a family of publishers. He has been with the football squad all season. He has been on the second team this fall with quarters apart from the varsity men, but has been on the field with all the players.

Dr. Roger I. Lee, professor of hygiene at Harvard, says the case isn't considered alarming and that the football men will not only continue practice, but will meet the Massachusetts State College team Saturday.

NEED NOT RECORD WEIGHTS.

Commerce Board Rules Against Railroads on Mails.

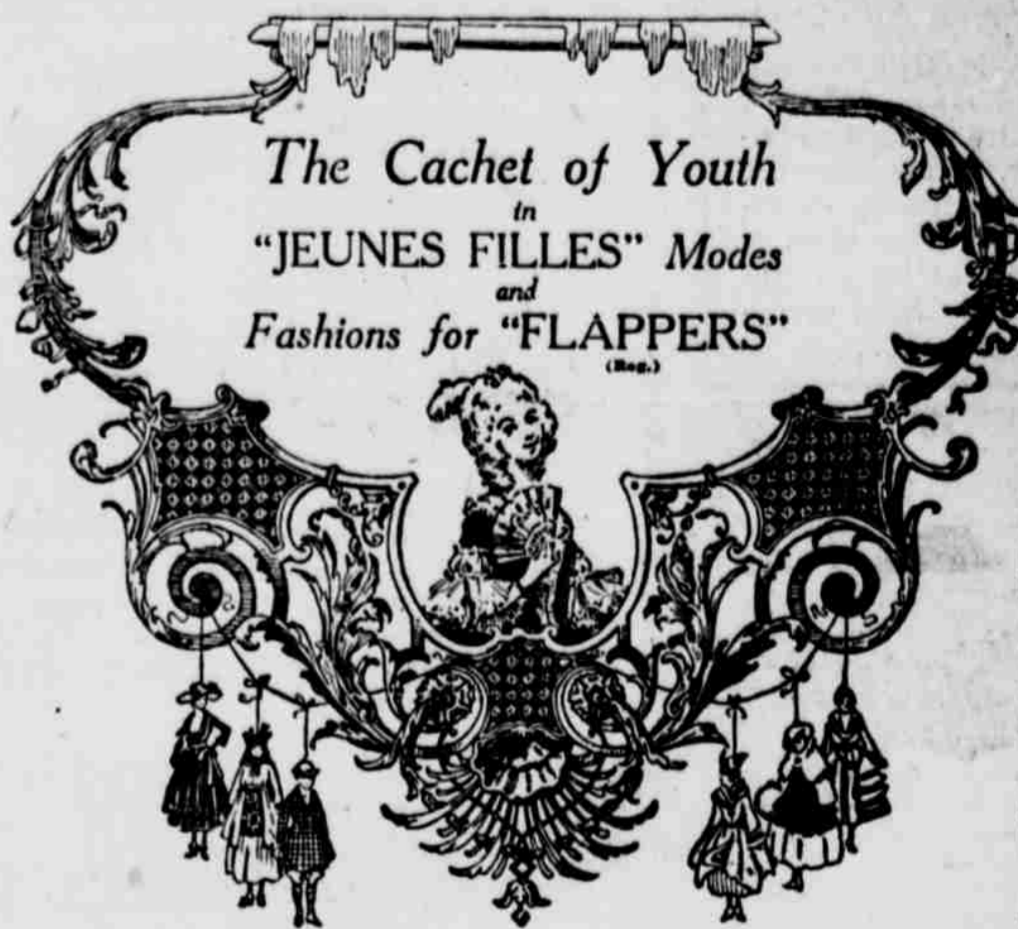

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—A request of the railroads that the Post Office Department be compelled to keep contemporaneous comparative weight records of all mail carried during the projected test of the space pay basis for railway mail pay was denied yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Under a provision inserted in the new Postal Appropriation Bill over the opposition of the roads, the space basis of compensation for mail transportation will be installed throughout 90 per cent of the service on Nov. 1 to try out its possibilities. Final decision as to whether it shall be made permanent as a substitute for the present weight basis is left by the law to the Interstate Commerce Commission. The roads contend that a fair test can be had only by keeping weight statistics for comparison.

A CRUSHING BLOW!To Crafty Tailors

WE and every tailor knows a really first quality Suit or Overcoat cannot be made to measure or bought ready made for less than $20.00. Here is your opening to make a real saving now, during this sale. Don't be hoodwinked by the alluring come-on prices of unscrupulous tailors, who claim to give you pure woolsens and fine workmanship in a suit for $10.00, $12.50, $14.75 to $15.00. What these crafty tailors do give you is machine-made clothes turned out by thousands from stock patterns; made up from light-weight or cotton filled materials. They are so poorly built, with cheap linings and without proper shape retaining materials that after a few days' wear the garment loses its shape, becomes shoddy, quickly fades and cracks. Such clothes are dear at any price. You can't go wrong in a Haas & Co. suit or overcoat of $30 to $35 value, made to your measure at $20.00; now, while they last, during this timely
